

Greetings fellow carvers,

As I'm writing, the snow is blowing, the wind is howling and the lights are flickering with the start of spring just a day away! Not to mention daylight saving time starts tomorrow. With the snow, you think we had just celebrated the holidays. And now just around the corner, thinking of warm weather and opening the pool which is just a few weeks away and just maybe sitting in the sun and carving instead of inside with artificial light. Yes, mother nature might be getting April Fools in early!! Pun aside,...

At the April meeting we will have a show-and-tell or just display what you worked on lately. Lets have a good time with our sharing!!

So...remember..safety first..sharp tool and clean cuts!!

Leo
